Contacts

- Research Available Internship Opportunities: Visit the official Ackermans website or check their career page to explore the internship programs they offer. Look for internships that align with your field of study or career interests.
- Prepare Your Application Documents: Update and polish your resume/CV, highlighting your education, relevant coursework, any previous work experience, and any other relevant skills or achievements. Additionally, prepare a well-crafted cover letter that demonstrates your motivation, enthusiasm, and suitability for the internship.
- Submit Your Application Online: Most companies, including Ackermans, provide an online application system. Look for an "Careers" or "Jobs" section on the Ackermans website and navigate to the internship opportunities. Follow the instructions provided to submit your application. This may involve creating an account, filling out an online application form, and uploading your resume and cover letter.
- Application Review and Selection: After submitting your application, it will be reviewed by the Ackermans HR team. They will assess your qualifications, experience, and suitability for the internship program. If your application meets their requirements, you may be shortlisted for the next stage of the selection process.
- Interviews and Assessments: If shortlisted, you may be invited for an interview or other assessments, such as aptitude tests or group exercises. Prepare for these stages by researching the company, understanding their values and culture, and practicing common interview questions.

- Final Selection and Offer: Following the interviews and assessments, Ackermans will evaluate the candidates and make their final selection. If you are successful, you will receive an internship offer, including details about the program, duration, start date, and any applicable compensation or benefits.
- Acceptance and Onboarding: If you decide to accept the internship offer, notify Ackermans promptly and provide any required documentation or information. They will guide you through the onboarding process, which may include completing paperwork, attending orientation sessions, and getting familiar with company policies and procedures.
